

Conrad Electronic: Simplifying Internal HR Management with Custom App Ingentis org.manager [web] for SF

Founded in 1923, the family business Conrad Electronic is regarded as one of Europe's leading omnichannel suppliers for technical products and components. The online shop for private customers offers up to 750,000 items. In addition, the company just recently launched the Conrad Marketplace in response to its business customers' needs, resulting in a total of currently 900,000 products.

As its customer base continues to grow, so does its workforce. The company decided to implement the custom app Ingentis org.manager [web] for SF, which is based on SAP® Cloud Platform, for use with SAP SuccessFactors® solutions. With the help of the app, essential HR management processes are performed more efficiently. Ingentis org.manager [web] for SF creates automated org charts in real time, providing a comprehensive overview of the company structure. Thanks to the tool's responsive design, Conrad is also able to follow through with its "mobile and cloud first" concept, providing a clear overview of all necessary HR information on mobile devices.
